

SECTION B-B

The drawing is a hand-drawn architectural section labeled 'SECTION B-B'. It depicts a cross-section of a building. On the left, there is a structure with a dome and several small square openings. A red line marks the ground level. To the right of this, there is a large, irregularly shaped mass, possibly representing a wall or a foundation. Further right, there is a section with a red arch, which could be a doorway or a window. To the right of the arch, there is another section with a red line, possibly indicating another ground level or a boundary. The drawing is on a piece of paper with a wavy, torn edge. The overall style is that of a rough sketch or a preliminary drawing.
